What the Experts say About our Training Courses

Mark Smalley - Leading ITIL Author and International Speaker

“ Many individuals and corporate organizations around the world use Good e-Learning to remain relevant in today’s changing world. Their ITIL courses are attractively presented and easy to follow giving students the best possible chance at succeeding in the examination ”

Ivor Macfarlane - Leading DevOps Consultant and Author

“ Good e-Learning’s DevOps courses completely cover the DOI syllabus and add valuable extras to ensure that both learning and understanding the content is as easy as possible. Perfect for applying the ideas and concepts of both DevOps and ITIL in real-world situations! ”

Claudine Peet - Leading Project Management Expert

“ Good e-Learning courses provide a holistic approach to learning - with very clear and easy to understand videos and graphics, and excellent scenarios and exam simulations. All of which provide the learner with everything they need to prepare for and be successful in the examination ”

Roger Evernden - Leading EA Expert and International Speaker

“ There are plenty of TOGAF courses on the market. Good e-Learning stand out for 3 reasons: 1) An intuitive and easy to use interface; 2) They go way beyond standard training requirements; 3) This is all backed-up by a team of knowledgeable and experienced professionals ”

David Cannon - Leading ITIL Consultant, Author and Ambassador

“ Good e-Learning achieves what many thought was not possible - an online course that is straight forward and gets complex material across in a fun and engaging manner. Easy-to-follow graphics, voiceovers and videos make the subject matter memorable - especially important for preparing for the exam! ”

Antony della Porta - Leading BA Strategist, Advisor and Coach

“ Good e-Learning is a bit of an understatement - it should be “Great” e-Learning, as they provide a practical and realistic approach to the learning AND understanding of the courses they present such as Agile Business Analyst (AgileBA) and Agile Project Management (AgilePM) ”
