Introduction: The Domain of DevOps & SRE

DevOps and Site Reliability Engineering (SRE) are two approaches to optimizing speed, quality, and collaboration in development and operations pipelines. They establish a culture where staff with different skills are all responsible for end targets and will collaborate to achieve them.

Key Stakeholders in DevOps & SRE

DevOps Engineer	Cloud Engineer	Reliability Engineer	IT Manager
Software Engineer	Change Manager	IT Service Desk Analyst	Operations Manager

What are the Business Benefits?

- Collaboration - DevOps & SRE both encourage collaboration and removing silos so team members can collaborate to produce results quickly and efficiently
- Automation - DevOps focuses on automating manual processes wherever possible, enhancing speed and reliability throughout the pipeline
- Testing - Encourage regular testing to identify and resolve potential issues preventing bottlenecks prior to deployment as ops staff do not have to rush to fix unresolved problems
- Reporting - DevOps & SRE utilize clear performance metrics through reporting to drive optimization and highlight potential issues
